Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-4, 7-13, 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Coleman (US 2005/0075172).

Regarding claims 1-4, 7-13, 15-18 Coleman discloses a cover 23 for an electronic device having a housing 20, comprising: a flexible and integrally formed holding-sheath member 200 having a sleeve portion that extends around a periphery of the electronic device housing 20 such that an upper portion and a lower portion of the housing 200 of the electronic device is exposed, and a holding portion 24, 25 that may be gripped by a user of the electronic device to facilitate operation of the device by the user wherein the sleeve is generally circular and is arranged to fit around the periphery of a computer mouse wherein the holding-sheath member has a free-opening protection portion extending therefrom and arranged to protect at least one of a button, a switch or a connecting port wherein the device is selected from the group consisting of a computer mouse, track ball, keyboard, game controller, joystick, card reader, camera, and barcode reader wherein an inner face of the holding-sheath member includes a protrusion for engaging a corresponding opening in the electronic device to secure the cover to the electronic device .

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 5-6, 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fails to show that an inner face of the holding-sheath member includes a protrusion for engaging a corresponding opening in the electronic device to secure the cover to the electronic device or that an inner face of the holding-sheath member has at least one rib for engaging a corresponding groove in the electronic device to secure the cover to the electronic device.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
